WEST VIRGINIA is to have the Presi dent this summer. The President is a gentleman with discriminating taste.

THE findings of courts martial are as uncertain as life. The latest performances by such courts are exciting a large amount of lively comment throughout the country, because of their comparative injustice. Major Lydecker was found guilty of neglect of duty, by which the Government sustained a loss of something like $2,000,000, but was West Virginia. simply flued $100 per month for nine months and reprimanded in orders, Lieutenant Commander Book, of the Navy, absented himself from his vessel without leave for the purpose of getting boilers to make the ship more serviceable and is suspended for two years from rank and duty. Justice is not made more ridiculous on the frontier where a man receives a nominal punishment for killing a neighbor on the slightest provocation and is hanged for stealing a horse.

usually rise from the lowest office in the and the factions of the Republic. navy to become its highest commander. It is just a little strange that, if the Admiral was guilty of cowardice, it was not known at the time, or that after all these years, having successively passed through the various grades of promotion and at the civil war than our own emtennial last arrived at the pinnacle, his action exposition in 1876. It is on such occais exposed.

People may pertinently inquire, also, what their country has what their country has wrought, that patriotism and National many years go by and saw all these pride is inspired. There is born then, honors heaped upon Admiral Porter even in the heart of the pessimist, an without exposing him. General Butler's admiration, if not a love, for the institustory is somewhat fishy, to say the least, tions of his government. He realizes

State Development. It will be a great day for the Northincludes the Panhandle, when the two who knows but that her great exposition new railroads are completed. The one the Fairmont and Clarksburg road, will do much in the direction of a sale solution of the agitating problems, and to insure the prosperity of the Republic, the Union, and develop a sparsely set—which now some in such depose of the Republic. tap one of the richest mineral regions of the Union, and develop a sparsely set-which now seems in such danger of distled territory which lies within a hun-dred miles of Wheeling; the other, the dred miles of Wheeling; the other, the "Black Diamond," will connect the Baltimore & Ohio and Ohio River roads at Parkersburg with the Chesapeake & Ohio and Richmond & Allegheny roads at Clifton Forge, Va., running through the center of the State and developing a wonderful territory. The ultimate object in the first case is to secure direct communication with Wheeling, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and the Kastern markets, as well as to afford an outlet to the coal and coke markets of the west and south. The object of the second will be to open an outlet for the products of the interior to tide water in the east and north, and also to the south and west, Wheeling, through the Ohio total water in the east and north, and also to the south and west, Wheeling, through the Ohio time of the printed guaranteed to cure those delicate diseases peculiar to femaler. Read printed guaranteed on bottle-wrapper. and north, and also to the south and to femaler. Reac west. Wheeling, through the Ohio bottle-wrapper. River road, will be benefitted no little.

In another section of the State the West Virginia Central road is doing wonders, and the work of extension will be pushed forward until Charleston or some other point on the Chesapeake & Ohio road is reached.

These are not paper railroads. The operations have begun, and within a few months the great boom in the interior of West Virginia will be fairly started. It is a pleasing fact, and one which promises well for the State, that much of this work is being done with home capital, and that all the various interests are in perfect harmony with each other. West Virginia has at last awakened to a realization of her resources and has begun the work of carving out her own Now let the permanent Board of In migration and Development be estab-lished. It is hoped that Governor Wilson, who in the past has given his encouragement to the movement, will include in his call for a special session a recommendation for this much desired Our Governor at the Centennia

Our Governor de facto, Mr. Wilson seems to have been lost to sight, or at least to the notice of the usually alert reporters of New York, while at the Centennial, West Virginians would have felt a certain pride had their State been honored by having their acting Governor made much of, as were the Governors of other States, but they were doomed to disappointment. The fame of Governor Wilson had not reached New York.

It is related that the Centennial Committee were even at a loss to decide glorious good time at the Centennial and the tax payers must foot the bill. The the tax-payers must foot the bill. The numerous claimants they would recogcaterer for the occasion renders an account of $5,000 for the wines, &c., furnished, and says he will make little or no profit at that. The few members who vious few months they had not read the current news in the papers and were here in West Virginia had been temporarily settled and that Governor Wilson was still serving. Perhaps that accounts for the fact that West Virginia had no Monday night, and of the dozen lady artists who took part in the debate nearly all contended that such a style of art was not hurtful. Some of the arments in its favor were very strong. Authory Comstock was not present.

The armed band of so-called "Regulators" that surrounded the polls in Lafayette, La., and prevented the colored citizens from yoting at the municipal election should be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. A revival of the Ku-Kiux days in the South would be a severe blow to its development, the morning of which is dawning. The Governor of the State should take the bull by the horns at once.

The reports of the Natural Gas Com-

The reporters and the committee knew that the Governor of West Virginia was to lead our soldier boys, and when they marched by the reviewing stand with proud steps they knew, if the programme was being carried out, the Governor was surely there, mounted on a prancing steed and surrounded by his staff. They saw the staff, and in all probability they gazed upon the handsome form of the Governor—but who was he? What was his name? Re-THE reports of the Natural Gas Com- knew that the Governor of West Virginia and Pittsburgh Dispatch says:

"What does greatly interest everybody, and what should particularly impress outsiders, is that this vast system of service is now supplying more gas than ever. Though the demands of consumers have grown, the supply has more than kept pace with them.

"Where now be the prophets who, as early as several years ago, shook their heads in lugnbrious prediction that Pittsburgh's new fuel would not last? The end of it looks further off than ever. So long as it continues will the city continue to spread at its recent enormous rate of expansion."

The distribution of the Governor was surely there, mounted on a prancing steed and surrounded by his staff. They saw the staff, and in all some form of the Governor—but who was he? What was his name? Reviewing the history of events since the sixth of last November, they were impressed with the idea that there were several of him, but which of his component parts was it mounted upon that steed? Who was the Governor—Westernor of Westernor of Empire, or Carrellow on a prancing steed and surrounded by his staff. They saw the staff, and in all the governor—but who was he? What was his name? Time was passing rapidly and there was none for research. Somebody remembered that the name of Jackson

> And so it was that Governor Wils while there in person, was thought of only as his predecessor in office, and known not by his true name or recog nized in his true official capacity. While Foraker, and Lee, and Hill, and Hovey and all the balance were being cheered along the line as Foraker and Lee and Hill and Hovey, Governor Wilson was being greeted and cheered as ex-Governor Jackson, and in the history of that figured conspicuously in the political annals of West Virginia, and down went the name of Jackson in the reports as by any other than an ex-Governor. Such is fame!

Nothing contributed so much to the restoration of harmony between the section of the United States, nor proved a longer stride toward the complete obliteration of the passions engendered by sions, when a people are brought together for the first time their greatness, and forgets their weaknesses.

France is passing through a political western section of West Virginia, which crisis of the most serious moment, and will do much in the direction of a safe ruption?

Shot an Eagle at Long Range.
Mr. J. F. Shirk on Monday shot an eagle at his residence in Picasant Valley that measured five feet four inches from tip to tip. He used a Sharp's rifle and the distance was 250 yards.

THERE is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease; and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It sets directly upon the blood and muous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. Severe Case of Blood Poison There is war between General Butler and Admiral Porter. Butler comes out boldy with the assertion that Porter was the naval officer whom he charged acted the coward at New Orleans, and Porter retorts that Butler is a knave and a coward, and a childish old man whom nobody will believe. Public sentiment is likely to side with Porter, as all the doubt is in his favor. Cowards do not
